

I feel the FCC should start monitoring crew radios at major racing events. Millions of fans are buying scanners to listen to driver to crew comments during a race. At Last weeks SnowBall Derby Steven Wallace was using the most abusive language I have heard on the radio. Parents were actually taking the headsets away from their kids because of his language. The radios have become a means of entertainment for the fans and the Driver that abuse the privilege should be held accountable. Thank You.